Happy New Year from The Local JOE'S CORNER...

..... it's over. You made it! The end of every year seems to fly by and for many of us the pressure of the Holiday Season makes it less than enjoyable. Take a minute and exhale.

The one cherished moment in everyone's Holiday Season is gathering with friends and family. Having the ability to be with one another makes the stress and tension bearable. Why is that? Research shows that being around other human beings creates comfort. This comfort increases your ability to fight Illness and increases your lifespan. In 2018, whether it is family, friends, co-workers or whoever, take the time to be with the people you love. It will be good for your health.

From our family to yours, have a great 2018.
